do less. make it mean more.

Makeready's initial challenge

1. Struggles with managing data across multiple internal and external platforms.
2. The need for a "Single Source of Truth" to unify internal systems, brand systems, and external sales platforms such as Cvent and Delphi.
3. A demand for insightful reporting to enhance decision-making for commercial teams, including GSO, Marketing, and Property Sales.
4. The need for transparency in revenue generation for stakeholders, managing directors, executive teams, and investors.

additional challenges

While these challenges weren't mentioned, they are key to Makeready's success.

data clarity

Emphasize the importance of data and clarity in execution, especially during critical final stages.

detailed playbook

Teams need a detailed "playbook" to effectively guide their strategies.

AI opportunity

There is a missed opportunity to leverage AI to improve sales and marketing effectiveness.

time constraints

Time constraints hinder the ability to develop tailored strategies for different segments.

uniform strategy

A one-size-fits-all approach is often adopted due to insufficient time for strategic planning.

the strategy-execution connection

There's no shortage of tools to enhance success, but businesses often struggle with execution.

This is where Ignite steps in.

Our approach connects strategy with execution, making it straightforward.

We use data-driven insights to facilitate decisions and promote continuous improvement and agility, giving your business a competitive edge.

linking commercial strategy and execution

Ignite is a sales, marketing, and pricing platform using AI to integrate strategic plans with actionable tasks.

Ignite connects revenue insights with sales strategy, aligning financial roadmaps with marketing goals.

This promotes a unified, data-driven approach, bridging financial planning and execution.

the ignite solution

Ignite is a BI solution that transforms organizations' data management and analysis.

By consolidating information into one source of truth, Ignite offers teams actionable insights beyond basic analysis.

Comprehensive BI: consolidates data into a single source of truth.

Actionable insights: that exceed basic data analysis.

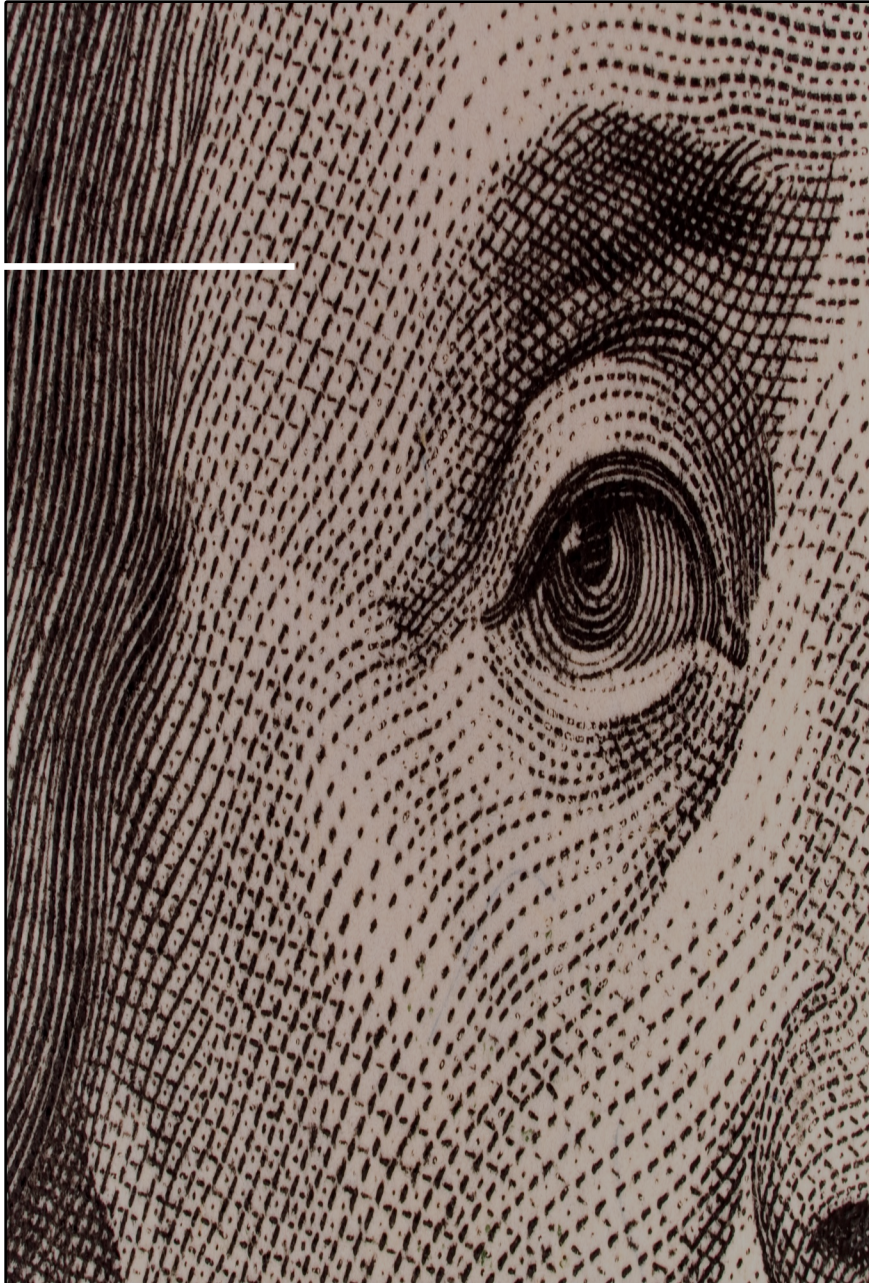

Detailed playbook: facilitates strategy execution and operational excellence.

AI & predictive analytics: for better-informed decision-making.

Prioritizes: Focuses on valuable segments for targeted attention.

unlocking hidden revenue

Businesses often miss about $2 million in just one asset due to a gap between strategy and execution.

Ignite makes the gap transparent, enabling companies to tap into potential growth with clear, actionable insights.
