Sales Effectiveness Research

Buying executives from 154 global companies were asked the following:

“Of the sales people who call on you, what percentage truly understand your business and provide your company with value?”

Buyers stated that only 7% of sales people “understand my business needs and are worthy of a long-term strategic relationship”

What Customers Seek

Company-facing skills

- Leverage all of your assets
- Manage multi-level relationships
- Lead “virtual sales teams”
- Ensure execution

Customer-facing skills

- Proactive innovation & insights
- Listen beyond product
- Be a consultative problem solver
- Sell business value in financial terms

Conclusions

- Business decision-makers want to deal with business people
- Higher order of business acumen required
- Be real – Structured Authenticity

Customer Excellence Is How We Win in a Value-Based Healthcare Environment

Sales to Business Relevance

Traditional Sales

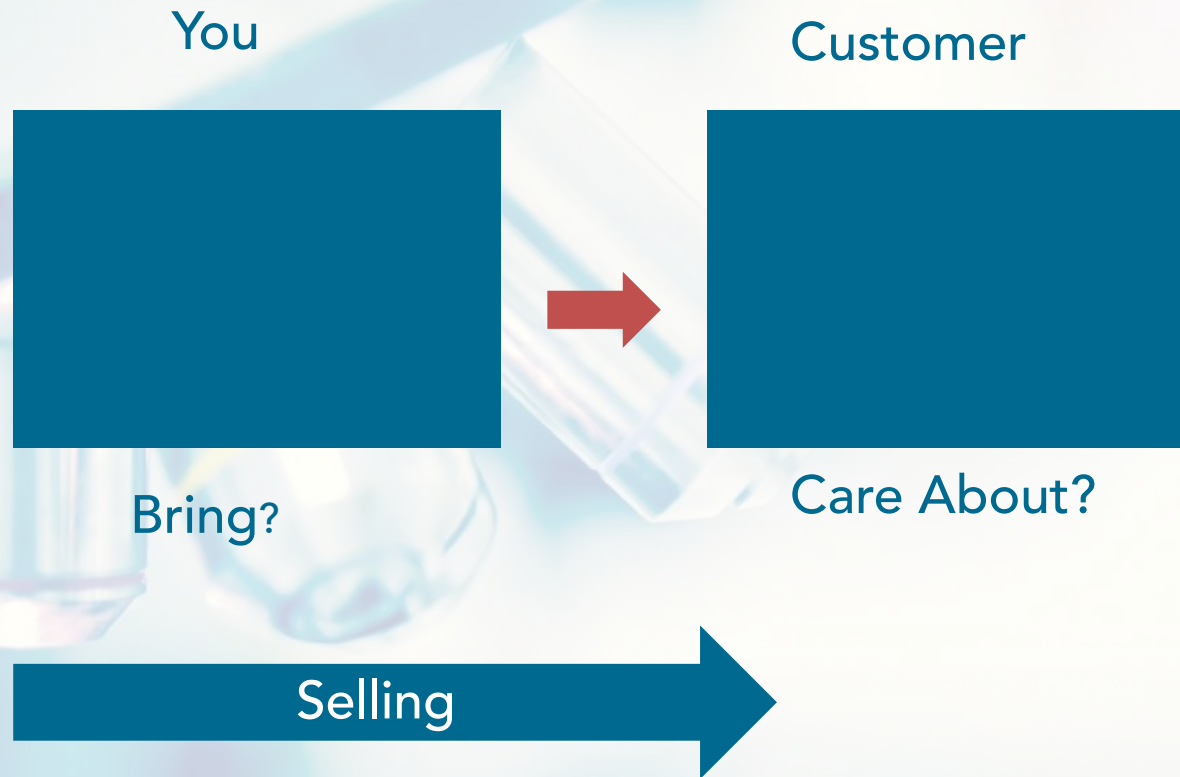

- Short-term focus
- Done to the customer
- Product-focus
- Commodity-based pricing
- Supplier account planning
- Single owner
- Responsible for individual relationships
- Accountable for revenue

Strategic Account Management

- Mid- to Long-term focus
- Done with the customer
- Customer solution focus
- Value-based pricing
- Joint account planning
- Multi-Functional Team
- Responsible for the overall customer relationship
- Accountable for range of business outcomes

L&D Challenges in Developing a KAM Approach

- Engaging senior leaders!!
- Changing the mindset
- Alignment of new language in customer-facing and customer-supporting roles (across)
- Creating a customer-centric curriculum
- Connecting SAM and sales organization

SAM Curriculum Design Principles: Cultural Journey

Distinctive

- How is more important than What
- Differentiate how you engage

Customer First

- Starts with "Them"
- How customer wants to engage vs how you want to sell
- Ensures relevance

Freedom in a Framework

- Not rigid or prescriptive
- Agile & allow to personalized approach

Pragmatic

- Brings simplicity to complexity

Elevates Value Creation

- Help Deep diving on customer environment

Accelerates Business Impact

- Common language, principles, + tools
- Measure the impact

Integrated

- Across all stakeholder-facing teams
- Best practice

Scalable

- across Units, countries, & cultures
- 80-20%

Journey

- Learner empowerment
- Right people (comp)
- Right learning journey (blended)

Dominique Côté: President LifeScience Practice

The Summit Group

Dominique brings over 28 years of local, global, & international experience in the Life Science sector.

She leads Summit's Life Science practice and EMEA customer development.

She is an accomplished international business leader, recognized as a chief architect of global account program journeys, leading corporate changes and cultural shifts for customer-centric innovation and patient value. She is a panelist and keynote speaker in Europe and the U.S. in the areas of customer centricity/engagement, Global Account Management programming, and Pharma Commercial Excellence - as a subject matter expert.

Dominique has a scientific and research background in genetic/immunology and oncology. She is from Canada, where she worked for the first 20 years of her career in the human pharmaceutical industry with companies like Roche, (Sandoz) Novartis, and Pfizer before relocating to Europe.

During her career, Dominique held positions of increasing responsibility in the areas of sales, marketing, L&D, KAM, business effectiveness, and general management (P&L). She managed teams in more than 36 countries, leading activities to optimize profitability and effectiveness of field forces, as well as enabling deployment of new commercial business models – such as spearheading the global account management program at Pfizer EMBU and CRM deployment. She most recently served as global VP marketing for UCB biopharma.

Her career provided her with global/varied market experience and diversified culture knowledge. Dominique has been on many global councils for learning and development/KAM/patient centricity, as well as diversity. She has been on the board of SAMA (Strategic Account Management Association) since 2011 and was on the HBA (Healthcare Businesswomen's Association) steering committee for international strategy, and the CCPE board (Canadian Council for Pharmaceutical Education).

Dominique lives in Brussels, Belgium and speaks French and English.

The Summit Group: It Is All in the Mindset

- The Summit Group is a global sales performance improvement company. We work to elevate performance, accelerate revenues, and improve the professional practice and status of sales professionals. We are part of The Consalia Global Alliance, a group of like-minded companies committed to setting the new global standard for strategic selling.
- The Summit Group has delivered in 54 countries in 20 languages. More than half of our clients are international groups located outside U.S.
- Our proven, values-led 'mindset' approach is a radically different and a very successful concept that challenges much of how sales people currently go about their jobs.

- Our unique, pragmatic approach ensures distinction and differentiation through the delivery of business simulation skill-based training. We focus on consultative-based relationships, uncovering and developing customer needs and requirements, and building value-based solutions that leverage the organization's value capabilities and directly align with customer needs.
- We develop business people and elevate sales professionals to be relevant. We believe that thinking is the new selling, and listening is the new solving.
- Since 1993, we've helped international clients optimize their sales performance through consultancy, customized training solutions & integrated process to coach and sustain the mindset & approach.

Summit: The Team

- The Summit Group's success can be traced to one thing - its people; a group of like-minded and dedicated professionals, whose commitment to, and belief in our clients' success, regularly goes beyond the boundaries of expectation. We are proud to be represented by each and every one of them.
- We are executives coming from different industries and have led KAM program, training and teams across industries; learned through implementing and managing KAM teams.
- We have walked in the shoes of being executive practitioners of this work.
- Our passion for customer centricity has brought us together organizations through this cultural & mindset shift journey.
- We are a true global company with offices across Americas and Europe (Belgium) and partnership enabling 20 languages delivery.
